

Rivers to the Sea

Scavenger Hunt

1. What type of fish do the Marshallese rely on, which are changing their migration patterns due to warmer water in the Pacific Ocean?
2. A reef is formed from multiple colonies of _____ .
3. Calcium carbonate helps animals like snails and corals build their shells and skeletons, just like calcium helps humans build strong bones. However, the ocean is becoming more _____ , which causes shells to weaken.
4. What invasive species did restaurants add to their menu, as well as, Florida authorizing a hunting season to help reduce that species' population to protect reefs?
5. Sometimes called the American Nile, this river is endangered and no longer flows to its natural end of the Gulf of California.
6. What keystone species within the tidepool are struggling to adapt to warmer water and rising sea levels due to an increase in global temperature?
7. The ocean captures and holds more carbon than anywhere else in the world through _____ , _____ , and _____ .
8. Sustainable fishing and farming ensure both the species and the industry stay healthy. What species lost 98% of their population due to overfishing, but with protection, is now listed as "Best Choice" or "Good Alternative" by Seafood Watch?
9. Name 3 actions people can take to reduce human impacts on the ocean and the animals living there.
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
 - c. _____

Funded by the Resource Enhancement and Protection Conservation Education Program (REAP CEP).

